"Looking at the courage, the heroism of a British woman, is it possible to believe that British men will fail where their women have succeeded gloriously? Something there is of enduring grandeur in this woman's sacrifice. It is an act that mobilises all that is real, enduring, noble in a race. The result will be found in all the days hereafter until the great day when Europe at last frees herself from a tyranny which is both brutal and stupid, and in its stupidity has sealed its doom."—The New York Tribune on the execution of Miss Cavell.

Building Annex

The Acadia Grain Company Are Constructing Additional Bins
to Hold 15,000 bushels.

The Acadia Elevator which commenced to settle some weeks ago is now out of danger of further settlement. Grain has been unloaded from the elevator into cars during the past few days and the pressure on the crushed beams eased. Contractors are expected from Calgary at an early date to raise the building, replace the damaged timbers and repair the foundations.

To accommodate their customers, the Acadia Grain Co. are building a large annex which, when completed, will hold 15,000 bushels. Construction work on the annex is being pushed ahead with all possible speed.

Musical Eckhardts Gave Entertainment

A large audience was entertained in the Methodist church last Monday evening by the Musical Eckhardts who gave a programme of considerable merit.

Each member of the company earned the hearty applause of the audience. Mr. Eckhardt Jr. proved himself to be a capable and versatile entertainer. His musical selections were very good and his songs and monologues kept his audience in continuous laughter. While reading some "latest war wire" he handed Chinook rather hard jolt. "Chinook, Alberta, Monday, Oct. 26th. Word has just been received here that war has been declared in Europe."

Selections on the bells as opening and closing numbers, were well rendered.

The Musical Eckhardts are sure of a hearty welcome when they next visit Oyen.

His Majesty's Appeal

In his appeal to the people of the British Empire, King George said: "The end is not yet in sight. In ancient days the darkest moment ever produced in the men of our race THE STRIKEST YOURSELVES. I ask you men of all classes to COME FORWARD VOLUNTARILY AND TAKE YOUR SHARE IN THE FIGHT."

Ex-King Carson

Sir Edward Carson is the man who, not long before the war, cheerfully undertook to convoke the British army to rebel against the authority of Parliament, and himself organized the preparations for civil warfare in Ireland, for the purpose of preventing the Home Rule Bill from coming into effect.

A few months ago Sir Edward Carson was forced upon a reluctant Government as a member of the Coalition Cabinet who existence can hardly be ascribed to any other cause than the will of Lord Northcliffe. The fact of the Opposition members who entered the coalition were whose aid and support the Liberals were able to avail themselves with confidence and gladness, for they were without exception men who placed devotion to their country ahead of devotion to their party or their own interest. Sir Edward Carson alone among the new Coalitionists provoked the greatest distrust and misgiving. He was known to all as the man who a few months previously had been ready to tear the Empire in pieces rather than admit defeat upon the one policy with which he had associated himself that of Ulster. It was impossible to feel that such a man was a proper person to conduct the affairs of the Empire in a time of the utmost difficulty and danger.

Distrust and misgiving have been fully justified. Unable to dictate his own opinions to the entire Coalition, Sir Edward has now resigned from the Cabinet. The Cabinet will not be any weaker as a result, but unfortunately the Germans will be inculcably stronger, in confidence and morale, as a result of this declaration of dissension in the highest councils of Great Britain. Regret over Sir Edward's action is almost swallowed up in resentment that he should ever have been imposed upon the nation as one of its rulers. An admirable leader of revolts, he has none of the qualities of a member of a joint-responsibility Cabinet.—Beck's Weekly.

John Boyes has returned to his farm from Arcola, Sask., where he has been for the harvest.

The W. A. of the Anglican Church gave a successful dance in the hall last Thursday, and although the attendance was not as large as had been expected, those present spent a very enjoyable time.

A patriotic concert, by the pupils of the Cereal School is advertised for Friday, Nov. 5th, at 8 p.m. Great care has been exercised in preparing this programme, which will include a play, "Mother Goose and Her Friends," (in costume), and two splendid drills, "The Indian Huntresses" and "Britania". The balance of the program will consist of tableaux, action songs choruses, piano duets, recitations, and various other attractions which go towards making an entertainment of this class both amusing and interesting.

O. Sparrow spent the week-end at Calgary.

The building of the Farmer's Lumber Co. is being converted into a grain store house and stable.

The residence in connection with the Anglican church is now completed.

Several visitors from Chinook were in town last Thursday for the dance.

Local elevators are now crowded to full capacity, and the fate of buying facilities now depend entirely upon the obtaining of cars.

John Naismith, Jr., of Oyen is now in Naismith & Co.'s store

J. Neel left on Wednesday for Butte, Mont.

C. H. Thomas is receiving a visit from his father, who arrived from Vancouver on Thursday's train.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bredin have moved to the farm to reside.

A local branch of the Vistorian Order of Nurses was organized at a meeting held in the hall last Thursday afternoon, when Miss Mary Ard Macdonald of Ottawa, the organization's inspector was present to explain at length the object and attainments of the order.

Miss F. L. White has secured the building formerly occupied by The Review.

R. Watson spent the week-end in Hanna.

R. H. Thomson, of Strassburg, Sask., has shipped his threshing outfit here, and will thresh in the Riddellvale district. Another machine from Camrose will thresh south west of town.

J. Jack spent the week-end at the Sutherland home at Riddellvale.

Riddellvale News

The Riddellvale branch of the Womans' Auxiliary of the U. F. A. met at the home of Mrs. Glen on October 20, with an attendance of about twenty-five. The ladies returned the work done for the Red Cross during the past month and more work was undertaken for the coming month. After the business part of the meeting was over an interesting programme was given by the members, after which an excellent supper was served by Mrs. Glen. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Riddell on November 4th.

Mr. John Baird left for Detroit last Tuesday.

Miss McArthur attended the Teacher's Convention at Hanna on Friday.

Financing Movement Of the Grain Crops

Banks Can Really Meet Duties Devolving Upon Them

The matter of finance has settled almost that abundant facilities for the financing of the grain crop movement without undue acceleration. If the grain is hurried to market it will have accommodation which would enable the grain to be sold and shipped, and, over a considerable period. The banks are in a much better position to meet the needs of the crop movement than they were a year ago, when liquid capital was scarce, and the banks were in a position to meet the needs of the crop movement.

Should occasion require, they may, without new legislation, issue additional circulation against their grain notes. The Finance Act of 1914, obtain in any amount desired Dominion notes against grain bills, and the banks are in a position to meet the needs of the crop movement.

To facilitate advances by the government, the banks are in a position to meet the needs of the crop movement. The banks are in a position to meet the needs of the crop movement.

The Listening Post

C. C. Regiment Has a Real Live News Paper in the Trenches

Designed to break the tedium of life at the front and to ease "trench monotony," says a Vancouver paper, a bright little sheet called "The Listening Post" is now published in the trenches of the Canadian Infantry. It is a British Columbia Regiment, commanded by Capt. V. W. Wilson of Vancouver. A copy of the first number has just come to hand. The spirit of the paper is the most commendable. The German is now being held back, the German is now being held back, the German is now being held back.

"Room to Let," the heading reads, goes on "Orlando" of the Daily News. The room is for sale, the room is for sale, the room is for sale.

Under the caption "Songs and a Story," the "Listening Post" has a number of songs and a story. The songs are by the "Listening Post" and the story is by the "Listening Post."

An Aim For Better Stock

High Quality Obtained Only by Long and Careful Selection

The successful stockman of today is the one who realizes that careful selection is the underlying principle in the production of good stock. He would not think of using poor material, but would use the best available. The quality of the product is governed by the quality of the material used, provided that the material is good. Therefore if the farmer wants good stock, he will have to use good sires and dams.

The indiscriminate breeding of animals, therefore, is a mistake. The strong of weak points, is what is losing the average standard of the stock in this country so far.

It is believed by some people the high producers can be obtained from the best of the present stock. The champion producers are the result of long and careful selection. Usually a good animal is obtained from mediocre stock, but it is not the result of long and careful selection.

Such an animal, however, probably will not transmit his qualities to his offspring. It is a waste of time hoping to get something out of a poor sire. One well known breeder has said that a farmer who breeds a bull in his herd is about as much as he can get out of a poor sire.

It does not matter about the good qualities if the weak ones are very prominent. The law of heredity plays a prominent part. This is the fact of heredity. The law of heredity plays a prominent part. This is the fact of heredity.

Noted American Geographer Points Out Notable Features of Settlements

Cyrus C. Adams, president of the Association of American Geographers, has declared in a statement that settlements of the new land lie 100 miles to the north of Prince Patrick Island, and that the most southerly part of the land with the explorer's trail is considerably to the east of the most easterly extension of Prince Patrick Island.

Mr. Adams said the most northern part of the new land, as far as St. Lawrence Island appears to be, is further north than any other land in the great Pacific Archipelago. The third of the new land is the most easterly part of the land with the explorer's trail is considerably to the east of the most easterly extension of Prince Patrick Island.

CEREAL REVIEW STOPS PUBLICATION

Letter to Subscribers

To the Subscriber of The Cereal Review.

It is with a certain amount of regret that we announce our discontinuance of business in Cereal, where we have been conducting business during the past eighteen months, during which time we have made many personal and business friends who we leave with no small amount of regret. For some time the "back to the land" movement has been enticing the publishers to abandon their business and again follow agricultural pursuits, and with this object in view, we endeavored to dispose of our business as a going concern, but soon discovered the business transacted was insufficient to entice a purchaser. We expected business to increase when this year's crop was harvested, but instead of improving it decreased, making it impossible for us to remain in our present location. We are now moving to a new Saskatchewan town, where we expect to dispose of the business by spring.

Arrangements have been made with the Oyen News, whereby they will devote a portion of their publication to Cereal and district's news and the business advantages offered by the Cereal merchants, our subscription list being taken over by them. It is impossible for any deliberate statement to be made at the present time regarding their future intentions for handling this business, but we are confident they will do everything within their power to make it as satisfactory for all concerned as existing conditions will permit.

In conclusion we wish to thank all who have helped in various ways to give publicity to the events of the locality, also the acquirers, who by their support, made our publication possible.

We ask you to give The News the support which has been tendered us in the past, that the happenings of Cereal and surrounding district may be still chronicled.

Your truly,

The Review Publishing Co.
By L. H. Horncastle.

Muhlbach Items

On the evening of October 23rd, Rush Center School will be the scene of a social gathering in the form of a concert and dance. The concert will be given by the pupils of the school now being trained under the able supervision of their teacher Miss Little.

Owing to the scarcity of threshing outfits in this locality not a bushel of grain has been thrashed here yet. Any machine coming in here now would be welcomed.

Our neighbour, Mr. Henry Muhlbach spent several days last week trying to induce different parties with thrashing outfits to pull into this settlement but was unsuccessful.

Mr. and Mrs. John Christie were visitors at Mrs. Geo. Sead's last Sunday.

Mrs. Trahan and Miss Little spent last Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Millie McDonald.

On the range line between 1 and 2, and at the southeast corner of D. A. McDonald, a government grant of $150 is now being worked out in cutting and grading road.

Morris Colver made business trip to Assinisk on Saturday in his car.

Parties having work at my place, are requested to call and get same at once.
